Ross and Cromarty Heritage Society Maryburgh History Maryburgh Folk

The Brahan Seer

From out of the shadows of Highland folklore emerges Coinneach Odhar, Fiosaiche, or "Sallow Kenneth", "the one who knows" - otherwise known as Kenneth MacKenzie. MacKenzie is said to have been cursed with 'The Sight' and foretold many events in Scottish history which have since come to pass, such as the Battle of Culloden and the building of the Caledonian Canal. The 'Sight' was definitely a curse, for it ultimately led to him being burnt to death. Little written evidence remains of his life and even his prophecies were written down long after his death

However, nuggets of truth have been found in the Gaelic culture of the Highlands was rich in oral tradition, and in stories which were passed down through generations.

He is thought to have used an Adder stone - a stone with a hole in the middle - to see his visions Having become famous as a diviner and wit, he was invited to work as a labourer at Brahan Castle, which eventually led to his downfall. Undeterred by his prophecy of the downfall of the House of Seaforth, the Countess of Seaforth determined to have her revenge on the man who accurately and publicly "saw" her husband's infidelities in Paris. As the flames arose from the spiked barrel, in which he suffered a "witches" death, a dove and a raven circled overhead. The dove rather than the raven landed on his ashes, indicating his innocence.

The Highland Clearances: He predicted the land reforms put in place by the Duke of Sutherland, whereby the people were forcibly removed from their small holdings to make way for sheep. This became known as the 'Highland Clearances'. With no home and no means of supporting their families, thousands of Highlanders were forced to emigrate to the New World. "that the day will come when there will be a road through the hills of Rossshire from sea to sea, and a bridge upon every stream." "That the people will degenerate as their country improves." "That the clans will become so effeminate as to flee from their native country before an army of sheep)."

"that the day will come when the Big Sheep will overrun the country until they strike (meet) the northern sea." Big sheep here is commonly understood to mean deer, but whether the words signify sheep or deer, the prophecy has been very strikingly fulfilled."

Culloden: "Oh! Drummossie, thy bleak moor shall, ere many generations have passed away, be stained with the best blood of the Highlands. Glad am I that I will not see that day, for it will be a fearful period; heads will be lopped off by the score, and no mercy will be shown or quarter given on either side"

Elizabeth Frederika MacKenzie

Mary Elizabeth Frederika MacKenzie returned to Brahan Castle in 1815, upon the death of her father, to take over her inheritance. She was born on 27th of March 1783 at Tarradale. She was married twice. Firstly, on 6th November 1804, to Vice-Admiral Sir Samuel Hood, who had been in command of British Naval Forces in the Indies. He died at Madras, in India, on 24th December 1814. The family bereavements in the period up to her possession of the estate and beyond to the time of the Disruption must have been a time of poignancy for her, and of particular sadness perhaps, was the accidental death of her younger sister, Caroline, in a carriage accident at Brahan in 1823:

This is commemorated by a monument by, what is now, the old roadside at Brahan. In Maryburgh the title of Lady Hood and the name of her son, Francis Pelham Proby, who died in 1844, are established in the names of the two main streets. Her interest in the affairs and well-being of the community continued up to her death at Brahan Castle in 1862 at the age of 79. Her burial place can be found at Fortrose Cathedral.

Donald Cameron, Piper

Donald Cameron and his brother Sandy were in fact born in Strathconon and moved to Maryburgh around 1845. They competed annually at the World Championships ("The Northern Meeting")

Donald won: The Prize Pipe in 1843 and 1844; he Gold Medal in 1849, 1850, and 1859; Champion of Champions in 1862; King of Pipers

In 1845, Donald was appointed Piper to Keith Stewart Mackenzie of Seaforth.

Sandy Cameron was a very successful competitor of his day and won Prize Pipe in 1846 and Gold Medal in 1862. Sandy died at the early age of 49 years.

Donald had three sons, Colin, Alick and Keith who were all outstanding players of Piobaireachd. Colin. taught by his father. won

.Prize Pipe in 1861, Gold Medal in 1865, and was Piper to the Duke of Fife.

Seaforth Cottage was given to Donald Cameron, pupil of John MacKay of Raasay and source of the Cameron school of Piobaireachd playing, in 1864 and was lived in by him, then his son Colin and grandson Colin.

Colin's son, also called Colin, was the last member of the Cameron family to live at Seaforth Cottage - the finest house in Maryburgh at that time.

The Christmas lights certainly gave the village a festive feel last year and there will be more fundraising throughout the year in the hope of extending them further. Thank you to those involved in this venture!

A Tipsy Tea Party has been organised to help with fundraising for more lights and other ongoing projects in the village.

For any would-be singing enthusiasts out there – did you know that a small group of cheery folk meet in the Dingwall Men's Shed each Friday morning at 10am? This is the latest in a line of venues for our wee group, and we're hopeful of moving into the even better (!) brand new Log Cabin building very soon.

To be clear, most of us are not men, although everyone is welcome! We vary in number from about 5 to around 10 each week, and would be delighted to welcome anyone to join us for a morning and see if you would enjoy what we do. The aim is to sing for fun and hopefully learn and make some joyful music together.

What's it all about? No auditions, no pressure! A wide variety of songs. Lots of rounds or canons; mostly easy to learn and a bit of fun; often deceptively effective. Recently we've also learned a few Scottish songs, 'The Bressay Lullaby' from Shetland, 'Yundah' which is about The Hebrides, and 'Coorie Doon', for example. We've more or less mastered a simple Gaelic lullaby, without the aid of a safety net or any Gaelic speakers in our midst!

We attempt to sing some of our songs in parts for a bit of challenge; but don't be put off as we take it slowly and most of us don't read music. A few of our songs are in Latin or have African traditional roots. Last week we felt rather pleased with our (slow but rewarding) progress with 'Pleni sunt coeli et terra' (roughly translating to 'Full are heaven and earth of glory'). Appropriate festive songs are often the order of the day.

Please feel free to get in touch to find out more, or come along and join us in Dingwall, as the title suggests, it's free, and you would be made welcome - as would a donation towards the Men's Shed!

Sally will be delighted to hear from you on 01997 423209.

The Easter bunny? Chocolate eggs? What exactly is Easter all about? Come along to Easter Explored on Saturday 16th April to find out! All primary aged children welcome.
